

NEWSLETTER ~ October 2018

Rabbit Trails in October

The First-Friday show on October 5 will feature Pacia Dixon and is entitled "Rabbit Trails." It will be accompanied with music by duo Well Strung (Jac Tiechner and Steve Sanders). We will also serve wines by Ryan Patrick Winery. See the poster for this month.

November Opportunity

Gallery members are invited to present artworks at the Garden Terrace Holiday Art Show November

Wenatchee Senior Center Provides Opportunity

The watercolors of Adelle Johnson are now showing at the Wenatchee Senior and Activity Center. If you would like to show some of your paintings or photos there during the months of November and December, let us know.

Special Guest at Two Rivers

The gallery was recently visited by Karan Hanan, Executive Director of the Washington State Arts Commission.

Little Mary Elizabeth in Print

Little Mary Elizabeth Has Just Turned Three has just shown up at the gallery! It is a marvelous book written by celebrated gallery member Jon Browder whose last book has become a reality. Thanks to Adelle Johnson and Carol Brewer, Jon's book got colorized and finished. The book is now on sale at Two Rivers Gallery.

Help Needed

Anyone have a 20 foot ladder? Terry Johnson has volunteered to repaint our outdoor signs. He would like to get started on this before the snow comes. Let us know if you can help. We have a new CD player. Can you help install this in the gallery?

~Notes of Interest~

- ◆ Check out the Bistro next time you are at Pybus Market. Brad Brisbine has finished a large mural in the outdoor seating area.

- ◆ Next time you are near the entrance to Pybus Market, check out our brick supporting the Pybus Foundation that assists community arts.

- ◆ Our Sidewalk Sale on the 22nd was helpful to our bottom line. Thanks to the donations of artists and the community, we sold $530 in art, books, and supplies. Thank you to those who stayed and worked all day, Russ Hepler, Ronnie Tuss, Jean and Randy Knox.
- ◆ On September 26th the Wenatchee Springhill Suites featured the paintings of artist Jane Bousman, at a 5-7 pm showing. It was part of their conference of hotel managers and included treats by Cupcake Blues.

Area Poets Partner with Gallery Artist

About a dozen poems were created from paintings by featured artist Martha Flores. There was a public reading of the poems during a reception at Two Rivers Gallery. The chosen First Place poem was read by poet Mark Oswood (below right). Noted poet Susan Blair presented the idea to provide a poetic experience that aimed to explore and expand upon a work of art through description or narrative or "ekphrasis."
