

Presentation of the 2019 Washington State Apple Blossom Festival Painting by Marti Lyttle.

The annual presentation of the official Washington State Apple Blossom Festival painting was announced at a crowded event in the Pybus building Thursday night.

Marti Lyttle was introduced as the artist chosen to paint the work. Here Marti has the mic and is thanking the Festival Committee for the honor.

Marti was busy autographing prints made from her painting. Ruth Raisler and her daughter were first in line.

The Royal Court was present and got their prints signed.

Present was Robert Wilson on crutches. It was his first time out of his home in weeks as he recovers from ankle surgery.

Alex and Marti pose with her original. Congratulations Marti.

If you would like a copy they can be purchased at the Apple Blossom Festival office across from the Wenatchee Library on Chelan Street. All sales go to support the festival. Over 100,000 people attend the festival each year.
