Two Rivers Gallery is an artist-run gallery of over 100 members.

Celebrating our eleventh year as Wenatchee's artist - run art gallery

The month of March over 50 local and regional artists are featured

There were many compliments about the wonderful art our artist members create...

... and the wonderful atmosphere our volunteer musicians provide every month. Our community sees Two Rivers Gallery as Wenatchee's art gallery. We are supported by over 80 artists and 30+ local businesses.

The gallery is open to all abilities, from advanced professionals to those who are emerging artists. The gallery is a place to learn, teach, and share your creative talent.

The readers of the Wenatchee World voted our gallery 'Best in the World' for several years.

Our complimentary refreshment table is a popular place to congregate. Our birthday cake was one of many treats offered to our guests.

Sasha brought a friend. Kmbris dropped by with many compliments for the gallery.

Today we also celebrate Carole Hiatt's birthday. She was busy as usual managing the front desk.

Dad brought his 3 children to have an art gallery experience. He shared with us that his mother took him to creative events. He wants to expose his children to cultural events as well.

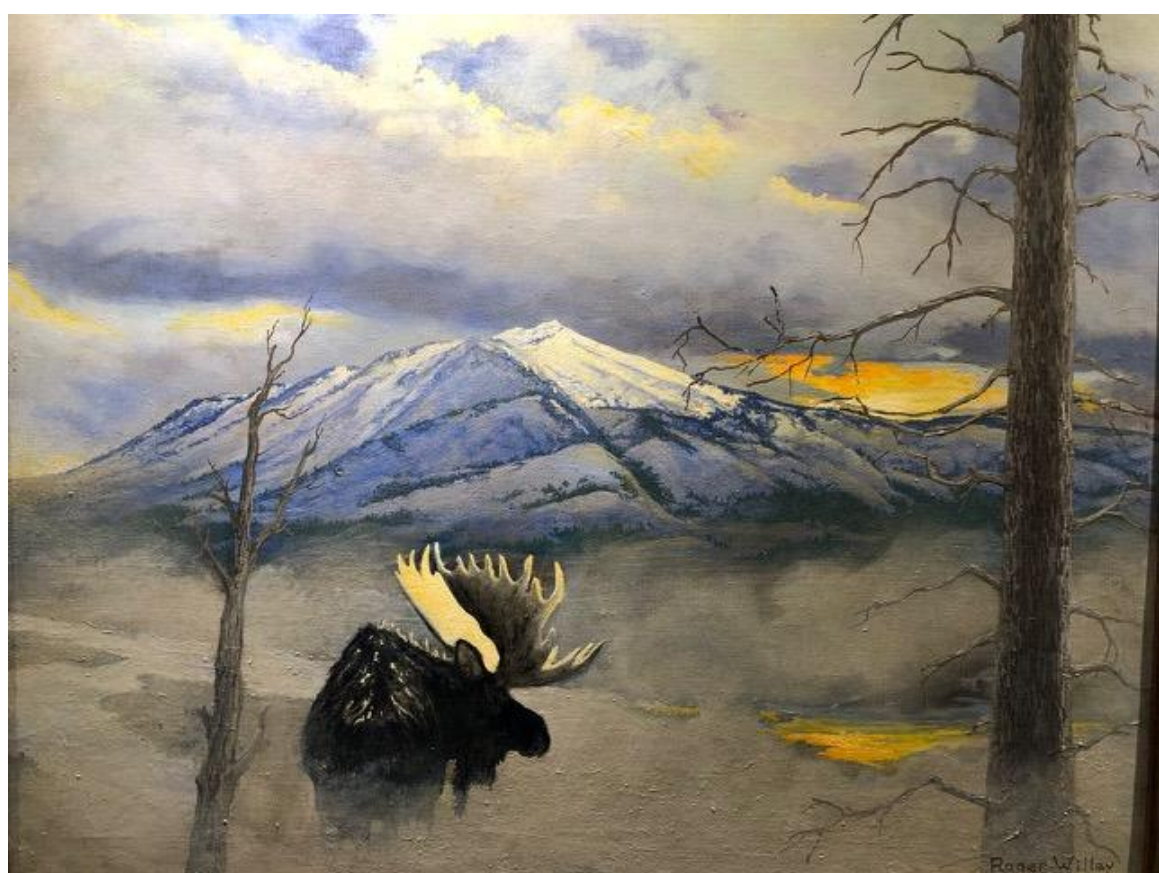

Some of our guests have not missed any of our monthly receptions.

Our newest member and emerging watercolor artist Jennifer McIntyre painted this lovely scene.

SOLD! The Largent's took home a watercolor by Susan Henn. Congrats to all.

Roger Willey painted this outdoor scene and is showing it in public for the first time.

Terry Johnson's 'Spirit of the Galley' lives on. Our show continues until March 27. Beginning March 28, The Wenatchee Watercolor Society will be featured for the month of April.
