

TWO RIVERS GALLERY

FIRST FRIDAY

September 6, 2019

Featuring

Cartoonist Dan McConnell

And a new show of over 50 local and regional artists.

Welcome to my show!

Dan is well known to readers of the Good Life Magazine with his "Then and Now" cartoons. He has been published in the Wenatchee World and Mad Magazine along with other publications, has taught art and does portrait character sketches.

Dan has one wall of political and recognizable characters.

The great weather brought out many who experienced a different and unusual show.

Claudia Wiggins stands by her encaustic paintings. She is a teacher and one of several artists who have recently joined the gallery.

Taking in a quiet moment in the West Wing.

Adelle said her eggs lasted 20 minutes. The food table all but disappeared half way through the evening. We are grateful to our generous members who drop off food for our guests. We hope to have a larger food display to offer in October.

Dan's painting was offered in a silent auction, proceeds going to "Children at the Border - UMCOR Aid. You can make a bid during the exhibit.

Want to order a presidential bowl? Sign up and Dan will make you one.

Want an original painting on a popsicle stick? Thanks Dan for your donation.

Paul Graves sang many songs we all have enjoyed over the years. Thanks to Paul who is the son of Robert Graves.

Larry Gay is presenting his latest bronze work, the characters in the movie "Tombstone". Larry met all of the stars created their characters in bronze and has been written up in the historic 'Tombstone Epitaph'.

Attending Dan's show was Bryan Ohme, (right) grandson of the Ohme family that created Ohme Gardens. Bryan has entertained us with his guitar on previous First Fridays.

Adele Johnson shows two of the admission tickets won this evening...says she will take Carole Hiatt to Ohme Gardens before they close October 14. We gave away 12 more tickets this evening.

Now is the time to pick up a creative McConnell calendar. He sold three this evening.
