

TWO RIVERS GALLERY

IN CASE YOU MISSED

AUGUST FIRST FRIDAY

AUGUST 4, 2023

FEATURING Annie Jones

Here is some of what happened at Two Rivers from 5pm - 8pm on Friday

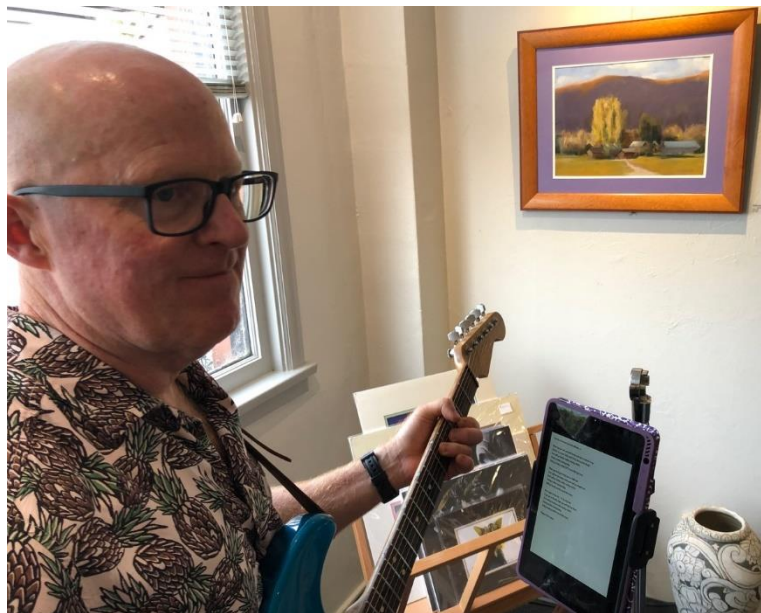

Annie Jones (teaching a recent pastel demo at the Wenatchee Watercolor Society) is showing her pastels at Two Rivers Gallery this month. She is our featured artist through August 27.

Attending the First Friday opening is Annie's cousin from Tacoma.
Annie is holding some of her cards she has for sale.

Playing his guitar for the first time is Mike Bills.

Mike uses a pad to play from. His style was very comfortable and asked to come back & play again for another gallery event.

SOLD! Annie painted this scene of a barn in St John (Palouse country). It is dodecagonal (12 sided) barn built in 1916 and now on the National Register of Historical Places. This painting was sold to a granddaughter of Max Steinke, the man who built the barn.

Local wines were served.

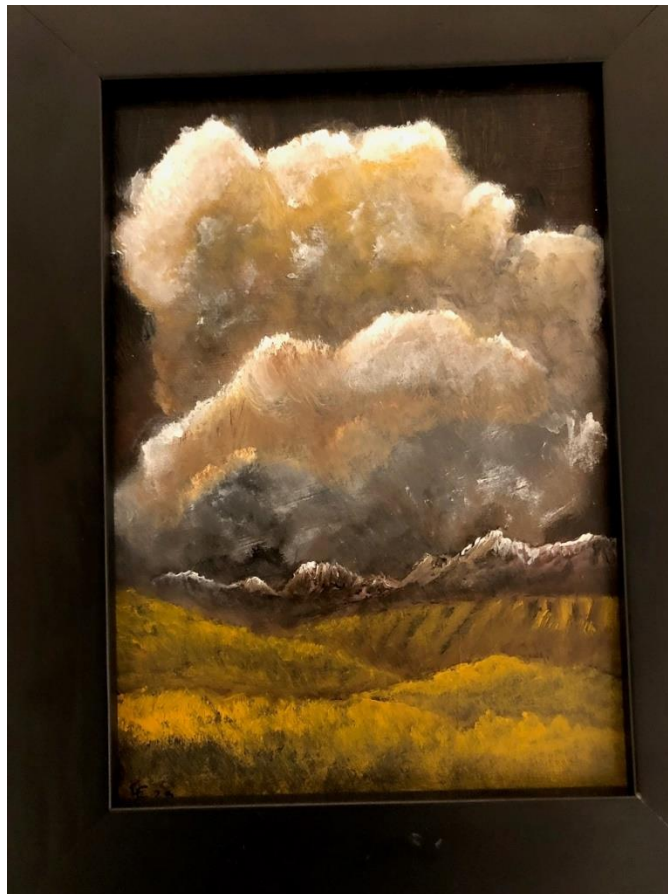

A nice crowd came to see Annie's show. Fifty-five other local and regional artists are exhibiting their artworks this month at the gallery.

SOLD! Warren Bissonette's "Blue Dog", admired by many, was sold to an art collector.

SOLD! Another acrylic cloud study by Carl Ericksen went home this evening.

Two visitors from North Bend enjoying our First Friday show.

SOLD! Sandi Miller and her daughter from the Tri Cities purchased this barn, a pastel by Annie Jones. Annie said that she and Sandi taught in the same school a few years ago.

In the Western Room you will see western paintings by Walter Graham...

...and this Indian chief by Terry Johnson.

The gallery has four jewelry artists who have one of a kind original works.
These pieces are by Constance.

The August show will continue through the 27th. Entry and exchange will be Sunday the 28th and Monday the 29th 10am-2pm. September 1 will open with an all new show and feature watercolors by Jan Theriault.

Annie Jones will offer pastel classes limited to 5 students.

They will be held at the gallery. Watch our website and Facebook Page for more information
