

Announcing our 120th First Friday Reception

Welcome to the Tenth Anniversary celebration of Wenatchee's art gallery of over 80 local and regional artists.

What would a party be without cake...

...and great local music by Glenn Isaacson and Patric Thompson?

Inspecting and enjoying the experience is Pat Putnam, known artist and sister of Lila Putnam.

Meeting friends each month over refreshments

The gallery's new show had one of the largest attended opening nights in 10 years.

Our guests are seen often returning at each opening exhibit. Connie Celustka, right, loves to attend First Fridays and was the gallery's first musician to play for us.

Scott Turpin, stands by his painting of Pioneer Square in Seattle. This is Scott's first showing at Two Rivers Gallery.

Enjoying the moment...

SOLD! Congrats to ceramic artist Warren Bissonette.

Pacia Dixon visits with friends over a painting they are admiring

Inspecting the jewelry...

David Luyben presents one of his portraits. David has a studio just south of the gallery on Columbia Street and will be teaching a class in portrait drawing. Check out his poster at the gallery. He is also the editor of Scandinavian Press magazine.

The Rainey's, Carole and Dean poured the bubbling cider.

Looking over the artist cards designed by gallery members...

Tonight was one of many First Fridays for Mike and Gwen Funner.

"Wenatchee Wild" game tickets were given away.

Rae Heinlein and her mom dropped in to see the 'Members Show'. Rae & Jim started Senior Insurance of NCW and have been a corporate members for years. Thank you for helping support the visual arts and Two Rivers Gallery.

President Jan Theriault thanks you for supporting the gallery and welcomes you to visit the annual 'Members Show' that continues through March 30.
