

TWO RIVERS GALLERY

IN CASE YOU MISSED

MARCH FIRST FRIDAY OPENING RECEPTION

MARCH 1, 2024

Featuring Western & Wildlife Artist

DEAN RAINEY

Welcome to our March / April Show

We are celebrating our 15th Anniversary as Wenatchee's Artist-Run Art Gallery

Each month we feature one of our outstanding artists in the front showrooms.

Dean Rainey presents "A Western Experience"

It is also opening night for over 50 local and regional artist members at our gallery.

Dean has been our featured artist several times in the last 15 years. We welcome you to have a Western experience in his show and throughout the gallery. Dean Rainey presents his paintings for the month of March.

Artists Claudia and Keith Wiggins, meet up with artists Brad Brisbane and Jen Evenhus attending opening night.

Carla Wilson enjoying Dean's paintings. We all miss her husband, Robert Wilson, who was our featured artist on two occasions before his passing.

SOLD! "Tonic Barn", Dean's first sale of the night. His subject comes from repainted barns advertising medicines to travelers he has found in the wheat country of Douglas County.

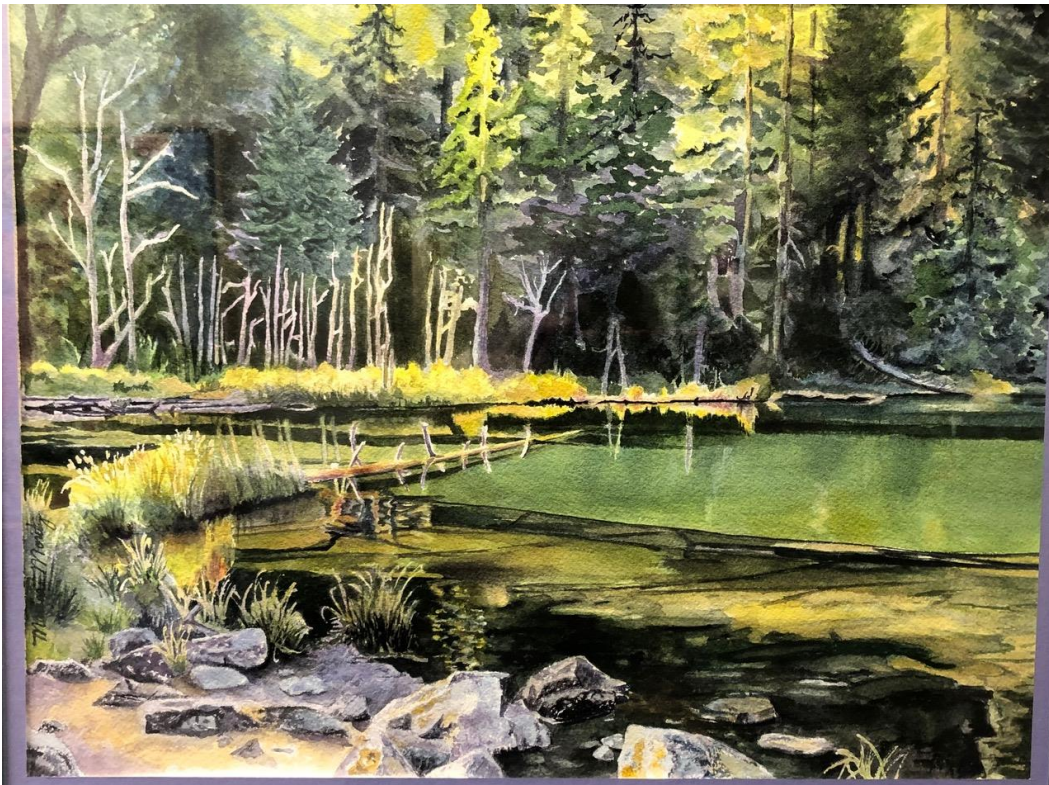

Back by popular demand, the sounds of an upright bass and piano came from Patric Thompson and Glenn Isaacson.

New to Two Rivers Gallery is painted cigar boxes by new member Margaret Bryant.

Margaret has six of her boxes on exhibit at very affordable prices.

A watercolor landscape, "Hidden Lake," is one of three being presented by Marisa Moritz.

Terry Johnson may have painted this scene from his yard. We just learned that he will undergo heart surgery Monday.

Our newest member Ryan Keese is exhibiting his three paintings that can be purchased individually or as a trio for a discount.

Marilyn Fisher is back for her second ceramic cat created by Warren Bissonnette. She also picked up a mini cloud painting made famous by Carl Ericksen. Congrats, gentlemen, on your sales.

Good to see Jan Cook Mack out for a fun night. She has three new paintings and many cards available at the gallery. Jan is visiting with art patrons, Chuck and Lou Largent.

Serving fine local wines tonight.

Jeff Justice has two new sports scenes he has done using colored pencil.

Sitting across from Jeff is Betsey & Don Schriener. Jeff & Don are cousins. The Schriener's enjoy attending First Friday shows at Two Rivers Gallery.

It is nearing the end of ski season and Camille Grebb's watercolor captures the last run.

A Dean Rainey painting reminds us of an Eastern Washington season soon to change.

First to emerge in spring are the tulips that make us smile. Adelle Johnson has a watercolor that reminds us of the bunches of flowers she always brings for us each First Friday opening.

Ronnie Tuss has a watercolor that could fly off the page. Perhaps this year will again fill our yards with swallowtails.

"Window Box, Italy" by Jen Evenhus. Jen visited Italy a number of years ago and loved this building and the window box! Stop by today to relive your memories of Italy and maybe add it to your collection!

Can a cat make you smile? Terri Timpe is coloring her fun cat sketches.

Skiing at Mission Ridge today and dropping into Two Rivers Gallery was a good idea for two skiers from Minnesota. They each chose a Rainey painting to take back home. Their choices will barely fit in their onboard bags.

SOLD! Amy Flynn chose this wonderful landscape painting by Dean Rainey to take home to Cashmere.

Dean Rainey is pleased with his sales tonight. His Exhibit will run through March 30. A number of other artists made sales today too! It may be the largest sales day we have had so far this year. Also impressive, are the number of guests that fill the gallery on First Fridays.

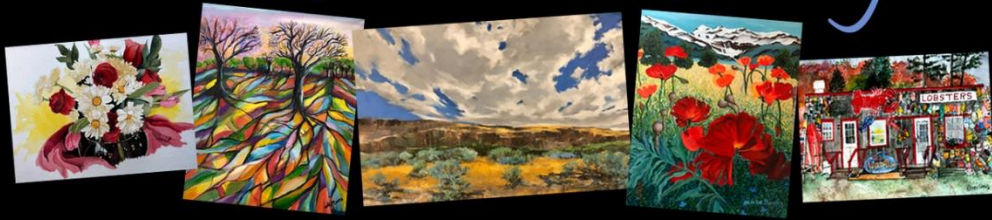

Our musicians, Glenn Isaacson and Patric Thompson will be playing for us again this year, on September 6 First Friday.

Next month, Friday, April 5 will feature artist and art teacher, Tina Tharp from Twisp.
Guitarist Mike Bills will be our musician.

Other featured artists are:

May 3, Rod Weagant
June 7, Sheri Trepina
July 5, Barry Benbow
August 2, Jen Evenhus
