

TWO RIVERS GALLERY

IN CASE YOU MISSED

MAY FIRST FRIDAY

MAY 5, 2023

FEATURING Richard Daugherty

Here is some of what happened at Two Rivers from 5pm - 8pm on Friday

Richard Dougherty and partner Carolyn Giger welcome you to his show.

Richard's watercolors present an array of color and interesting places he has visited.

Some scenes are of the Northwest and others are from travels to Europe.

The gallery opens with a new show of 52 artists showing their artistry.

Attending are friends of Richard, Bill and Sally Bauer from Leavenworth. Sally is a Wenatchee teacher and Bill is a retired educator and former Mayor of Leavenworth. Sally holds up a Wenatchee World article she found in today's newspaper telling about Richard's show.

Back by popular demand is Glenn Isaacson on piano and Pat Thompson on bass. They play each Saturday night at Ludwig's in Leavenworth.

Marilyn Fisher's presentation this month will remind us of Memorial Day May 29th.

Sold! Congrats to Terri Meenach for her sale of an alcohol ink painting.

There was a light crowd attending First Friday as there were other events going on in celebration of the Washington State Apple Blossom Festival.

Wine this evening compliments of member and photographer Cheryl Conklin. She and her husband donated a dozen bottles of wines from Karma Winery of Lake Chelan. Sales amounted to about $100. Thank you for your generosity.

Quincy teacher Alex Semmons and daughter Rowan were having a fun night out.

Jan Cook Mack is showing her work this month. Jan will be our featured artist in June.

Pat Thompson's wife, Laurel, admiring one of Richard's paintings, said she wants to join the Tuesday Water Media Group to learn about watercolor painting. Richard and about 25 other water media members meet each Tuesday at the Saddle Rock Presbyterian Church between 9am and noon every week.

This month is great for bird watching, flower color and an all-new presentation of art at Two Rivers Art Gallery.

Richard Dougherty's show continues until May 28.
