Two Rivers Gallery

May 3, 2019

First Friday at
Two Rivers ART GALLERY

Featuring...
Barbara Sannes Bainard

Art has been a part of my life for as long as I can remember. It has brought me much pleasure. I have worked in oil, pastels and watercolor, but acrylics has been my favorite. I've attended many workshops over the years, and I'm currently studying under Jerry Yarnell, a very seasoned acrylic painter. Some of my work portrays this beautiful area that we live in.

Two Rivers Gallery is an artist-run cooperative of over 100 members.

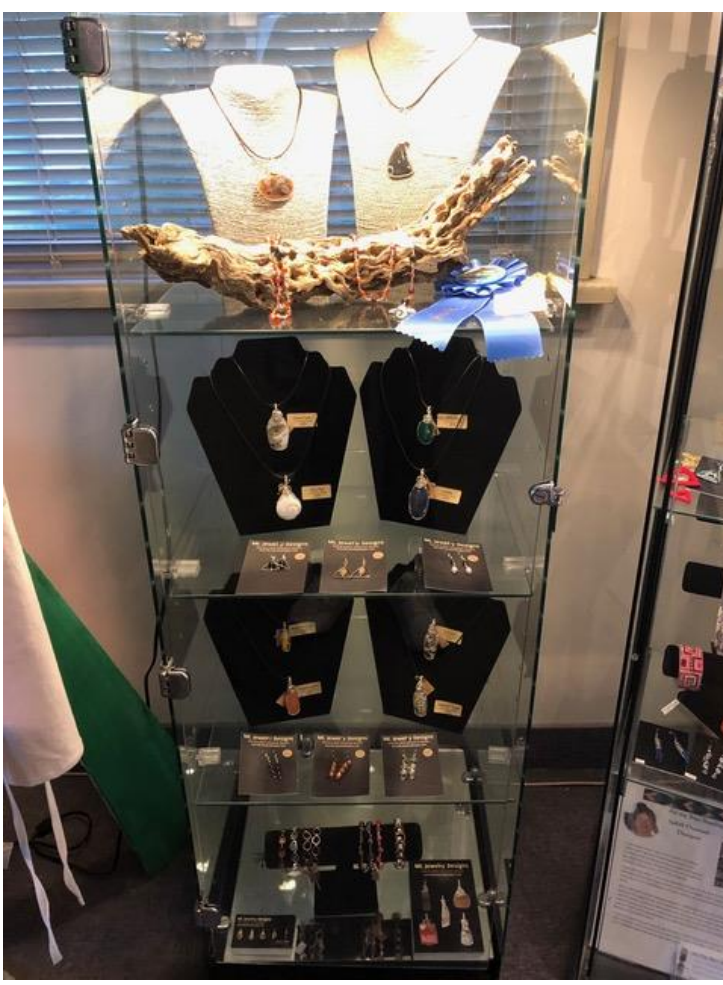

Featuring artist Barbara Sannes Bainard

The gallery is sporting a newly painted sign thanks to Terry Johnson.

Barbara's family came to share opening night.
Many friends and relatives came to celebrate Barb's special night.

Maria Langer moved her Jewelry to a new location in the gallery.

Relaxing music was provided by Jeannie McPherson. She is a true artist in that all of the music she played is her original work.

Congrats to Barbara as this painting was shown in the 'GO' magazine this week.

Bruce McCammon, Audubon photographer and writer of "A Bird In The Lens," a monthly column in the Good Life magazine, dropped in to check out the show. Bruce may soon be showing some of his many bird photos at Two Rivers Gallery.

One of our food tables was set, reminding us of Cinco de Mayo which is celebrated on Sunday.

SOLD: Jim O'dell sold two of his major metal artworks this evening. The gallery had sales of over $550.

Offering bubbly cider was Dean Rainy. Dean was a classmate of Barbara at Wenatchee High.

Sharp dresser (gallery artist) Albert Kissler dropped in before attending a special ceremony for the Apple Blossom Festival going on this weekend. He has been an Applarian for many years.

Creating a large artwork with mini beads and a microscope is one of three works by our newest member Marilyn Covey.

Barbara Sannes Bainard taught a paint and sip class at a local winery on Saturday. Her work can be seen through May 31.
