FEATURING Marsha Rae Thornton

Here is some of what happened at Two Rivers from 5pm - 8pm on Friday.

Marsha and Preston Thornton welcome you to the gallery.

It was a rainy night but that did not stop the crowds who showed up to see the new show.

Amy Albright performed soft music on her hammered dulcimer.

Claudia Wiggins brought Jan Cook Mac to the show. Marsha is one of several artist members who learned to paint under Jan's teaching. Jen Evenhus attended the show. Jen teaches as well and has mentored many students across the country.

SOLD! An encaustic painting by Marie Alice Hurst. The painting was held for a collector of her work. Happy Birthday Shiloh!

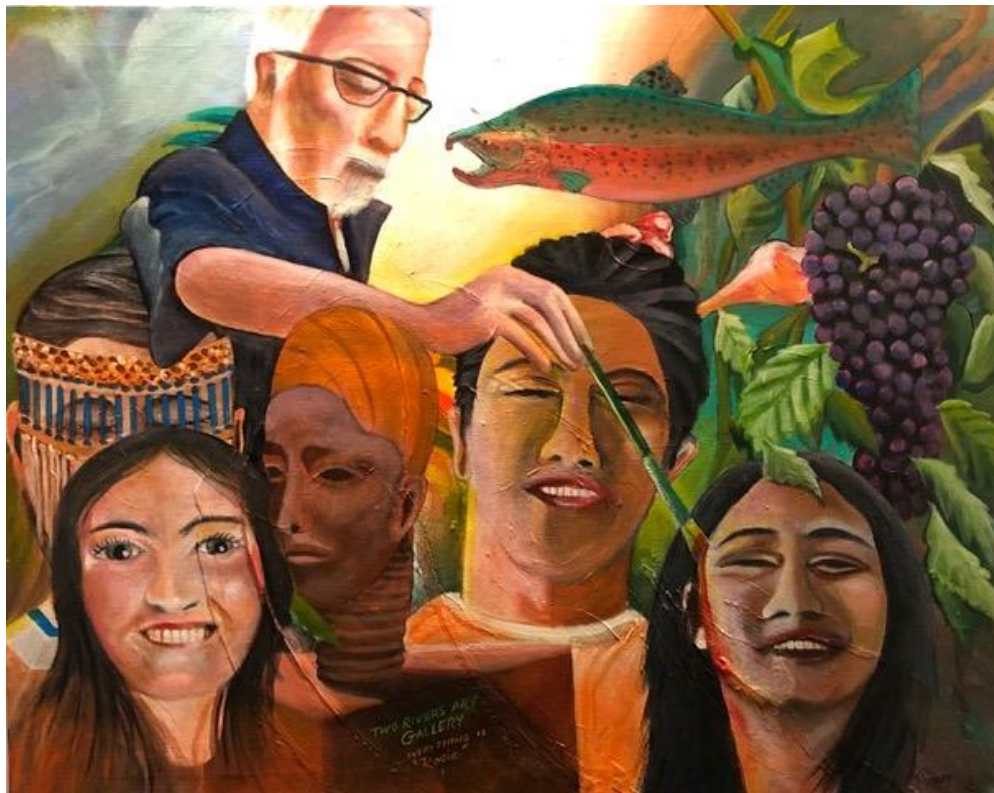

The Smith's from Fairbanks Alaska were admiring a painting by Ted DeMarce. He was a biology teacher & she taught music at the University of Alaska.

'Japanese Larch in the Fall' A photo by new member Debra Benbow.

Ladies night out. Sasha Fair brought friends to see Marsha's mountain paintings and much more. The gallery has about five dozen artists showing new work.

'Painting Rosie' by Terry Johnson (Wenatchee's Picasso). Notice Terry added a clever comment about Two Rivers. "Everything is Rosie"

Art stepped out into the West Wing to welcome guests to the other half of our gallery.

SOLD! A colored pencil print of Mic Jagger by Jeff Justice went home with Katherine of Quincy.

Marsha could have painted these for our Plein Air Paint Out. She said she does Plein Air but did not participate in our Paint Out this year.

'Crusted Crustacean' by newest member Marisa Moritz. This is her first show at Two Rivers Gallery. Marisa paints at Ridgeline Graphics on Tuesdays with two dozen other water-media artists.

You just feel the softness of cattails. Pastel painting by Jen Evenhus.

Nena & Jamie Howell popped in from the rain to catch the show.

The entire gallery has many artworks created by local & regional artists.
