"When I finally transitioned into being a full time artist in 2020, I didn't take long to determine what my subject would be. I have a passion for music, sports and portraiture so it became my quest to find images to inspire my next piece. Recently I started using colored pencil on black illustration board. It proved to be a good decision and provides a unique look to my work. My technique with this media is still evolving, but I find it very rewarding and the colors really pop on the dark background!"

and Marilynn Weaver

Marilynn finds value in being consistent and sets aside time each day to paint scenes of rustic life - old barns, churches, birds, and horses, often from photographs taken by her daughter, Teri St. Jean. She also produces and sells a calendar of her paintings each year. Marilyn's paintings have been in the Wenatchee Valley Museum Art Show, the Icedale Bird Fest Art Exhibition, and are at the Two Rivers Art Gallery.

Show runs February 4th thru 28th
 Gallery Hours: Wed - Sat: 11-4 pm Sunday: 1-4 pm

WENATCHEE — Two Rivers Art Gallery in Wenatchee welcomes artists Jeff Justice and Marilyn Weaver for First Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. on Feb. 4.

Jeff Justice

Two Rivers Art Gallery is at 102 N. Columbia St. Justice became a full-time artist last year, choosing to focus his art on his passions, music, sports and portraiture. He recently started using colored pencil on black illustration board, believing it was a good decision and provides a unique look to his work.

has been displayed as part of the Wenatchee Valley Museum Art Show and Icedale Bird Fest Art Exhibition, as well as at Two Rivers Art Gallery.

This was the most well attended First Friday since the pandemic started. The gallery looked like a return of the crowds we have had for many years. Thanks to the promotional help of the Downtown Association and the Wenatchee Chamber of Commerce.

Our opening includes the artworks of 58 local and regional artists of all skill levels.

Jeff Justice colored pencil artistry is featured this month. Behind Jeff are his musicians from the "The Rolling Stones"

R'shelle Therriault brought her dad Ed and friend (left) to see the show. R'shelle is a hair stylist and has the Cut Truck mobile hair salon often parked at the West entrance of the Pybus Market.

SOLD! Marie Alice Hurst purchased a watercolor by featured artist Marilyn Weaver. Congratulations to Marilyn who has made several sales of her watercolors at Two Rivers Gallery.

Welcome to Wenatchee, Ron and Pat Nelson. Having moved from North Carolina they are experiencing the area's coldest winter after our hottest summer in years. The Nelsons said they wanted to attend Marilyn's opening.

Larry Gay set up his latest sculpture made of clay. His Legends of the West series includes bronze images of the actors in the movie "Tombstone". Larry meets up with them at special events in Tombstone AZ.

Our collection of art books for sale is popular as the prices are usually lower than those found on Amazon.com. All our books are donated to the gallery.

Jeff poses with family members who are here to support his opening.

Music was provided by Amy Albright on hammered dulcimer.
The music paired well with Marilyn's barns and Larry's cowboys.

Tonight's wines were provided by Goose Ridge Winery.
Labels were designed by Jen Evenhus.

Terry Johnson showed up sporting a healthy beard and mustache... says he has some 'Viking' blood.

It's not often we crowd into one room with famous characters in music, sports and the movies.

The Sutherlands are celebrating Dave's last month as a pharmacist. Sheryl's costumes will be in this year's play, "The Wizard of Oz" next door at the Wenatchee Performing Arts Center.

SOLD! Congrats to Jen Evenhus on her sale of Majestic Sage Moments. The large 24x36 oil painting went home with a couple who just moved to Wenatchee from their Seattle home.

First Friday sales were $1460 that included artworks, wine sales and donations.

Marilynn's and Jeff's show will continue until February 24th.
Entry for the March Members Show will begin Friday the 25th.
