

Don't miss Roger Willey's exhibit of Western and wildlife scenes ending Thursday October 28.

Grants, Grants & Grants

Congratulations!

Two Rivers Gallery has been awarded a Woods Family Music and Arts Fund Grant for the Two Rivers Gallery Boost project in the amount of $2,000.00.

Claire Oatey
Director of Grants
Community Foundation

There's grant money from The Community Foundation of North Central Washington, Pitts/McConnell for $1000. I tried to get it for us before but now that 2 Rivers is a non-profit 501 c3, it was easy. It should be coming your way soon.

Dan McConnell

On Thursday, October 21st, 3 members of the gallery board and Terri Timpe participated in a zoom interview by the Community Foundation for a large grant that could help us catch up on much needed updates to the gallery infrastructure and programs that help us reach out to the needs of the art community.

Focus on Our Members

Dan Crandall

Dan Crandall is the newest artist to our membership.

After graduating from the Art Center College of Design, Dan pursued a career as a commercial interior designer, design director and architectural illustrator. Toward the end of his career, he taught art and design to college students in Seattle.

Since retiring, he has rediscovered his early love for watercolor, while allowing his formal art and design education to guide his paintings.

Currently, Dan is the President of the Lake Chelan Arts Council. (info@lakechelannow.com).

Dan and his wife Nancy have asked to help recruit local wineries to participate in our First Friday events. It is a time consuming job but can be intoxicating. Thanks Dan & Nancy. We look forward to seeing your watercolors at the gallery.

Dan Crandall has a show presently of his watercolors at the Chelan Library.

Betsy Dudash

Betsy Dudash is a self-employed landscape horticulturist and designer specializing in native plants. In addition to doing consultations and drawing landscape plans for clients, she also teaches in the Continuing Education program at Wenatchee Valley College. Her current course is "Introduction to Landscape Design."

Jeff Neher

Jeff Neher has joined the gallery as a benefactor. We much appreciate that his firm sponsored our application to become a non profit 501 (c) 3.

Goetz, Bailey & Yale

CPA's Goetz, Bailey & Yale have been added as corporate sponsors of the gallery. We much appreciate the business community supporting the visual arts.

In Print...

This month's issue of the Foothills Magazine features the Wenatchee Watercolor Society. Freelance writer Jaana Hatton came to a painting session of the group and interviewed each artist. Many pictures were taken. Most of the more than 30 watercolor members are members of Two Rivers Gallery.

A free copy of the magazine can be picked up at the gallery.

The Society has a show ongoing at Pybus and will soon be changing out their exhibit at Confluence Health Oncology Radiology.

First Fridays are on Again!

Mark your calendars so you don't miss that first Friday's are back in action again. Be the first to see new featured exhibits while listening to great music and sipping local wines.

November 5th & December 3rd

First Friday - November 5th at

TWO RIVERS ART GALLERY

Featuring the artwork of Leslie Myers...

“A different way of seeing things”

Even when Leslie Myers was a little child, she saw things differently. Where most people saw a beautiful landscape, Leslie saw colors, textures and patterns, which she enjoyed rearranging in her mind. With the encouragement of her grandmother, it wasn't long before she began to put these mental images on paper in the form of painting and drawing.

Trained in Art at Central Washington University she was quickly hired to produce scrimshaw jewelry for Alaska Silver and Ivory in Ellensburg and Bellingham, and eventually displaying her work at numerous galleries and furnishing a line of scrimshaw jewelry pieces for Eddie Bauer stores.

Today she works in a much larger format and paints in Acrylic paint on both canvas and watercolor paper. With a background of scrimshaw, there are extra details in every painting.

A life long Washington State resident, Leslie paints from her photographs of the places, people and images that she sees. She also captures images of places around the world from her many travels.

She enjoys the expression, stylization of her subjects, and the creative spirit of the process, seeking to challenge herself with every new painting.

She encourages you to take a moment to look at her work at a distance and up close. Take a moment to reflect on the brush strokes, the colors, textures and patterns. Maybe you'll see things differently.
