

Plein Air Paint Out Ohme Gardens

Artists Celebrate its 90th Anniversary!
June 22, 2019

Artists entered the gardens at 9am

Sign painter and visual artist Terry Johnson worked out of his truck painting a view of the Cascades.

...while Steve Zimmeroff painted at the water's edge.

Kmbri Bond, winner of the Spirit of Pybus painting contest chose a comfy overlook of the Columbia.

Brad Brisbine took the stage with his paints in hopes of winning another first place for his painting of the Wenatchee Valley.

Sasha Syssoeva mixes paint on her palette...

...and way down the rocky path we found Carmen Hoffman who is painting Hidden Pond.

Jen Evenhus, who was first place winner last year at Two Rivers Paint Out, concentrates on a creek coming out of the rocks.

It's 5pm and time for the judges to pick the winners!

First place: Brad Brisbine

Second place: Sasha Syssoeva

Third place: Jen Evenhus

Honorable mention: Terri Johnson

Cash awards will be presented at Two Rivers Gallery on July 5 First Friday at 6pm.
Congratulations to the winners and many thanks to all who participated.
