

Latest Artworks SOLD!

The gallery is finally seeing art sales after a long quiet reopening. Marie Alice Hurst stained glass sold Saturday Sept 12. Congrats to Annie Jones for her pastel "Pear" that sold the day after she brought it in for our September Show. Congrats to Kellie von Beck for another sales of her glass plates. Sarah Stone's "Mariah" 18x24 oil painting sold Sunday Sept. 13. Marilyn Weaver's watercolor "Hoot..." sold on Sept 3 for $90 to a man from Gig Harbor and two others sold the next day for $40 each. Marilyn's work has been tops in sales this year. Nicki Isaacson and Barbara Conner Reed have sold prints on the 4th as well. A book by Martha Flores was sold on the 5th.

Notes Of Interest:

- We have recently received generous donations from several of our artists. Other members are catching up on their $50 membership renewals. The Wenatchee World sent a reporter to cover the article in our August Newsletter describing our financial dilemma. If it goes to press we may have the community come to our rescue.
- Thanks to Barbara Conner Reed for donating a large wood pedestal.
- KPQ 560 AM and their FM station The Quake are airing our gallery ads several times each week as a community bulletin. We also have support from our member Sunny FM.
- The Goodlife Magazine printed two gallery stories in their July and August issues.

- Featured artist Barbara Conner Reed and husband escaped the fire in the Okanogan. Part of their property was lost along with machinery and shed. You can meet her on September 26 when she learns to be a docent.
- On September 2 the Wenatchee World showed a Seattle firm ArtSight beginning to roll up the 560 squad foot Walter Graham, 'Horsepower' mural that had been at Rocky Reach Dam for 50 years. The beloved oil painting will go into storage for future viewing one day. The gallery has shown Graham's original draft of the painting during his last art exhibit in November of 2019.
- If someone wants to help set up a 'Go Fund Me' page to help rescue Two Rivers Gallery please let us know. Call Jan at 509-881-1729 or email jan.gt@icloud.com.

Presenting this year's Pybus Market winning poster. Congrats to Sasha Syssoeva.

Robert Wilson has a show at the Pybus Market that is a memorial to his memory. Pybus Foundation is accepting donations for a scholarship in his name.

Jan Cook Mack Oil Classes

I take one person at a time for a lesson from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm. They provide the canvas they will paint on. I set up a palette with oil paint, and I coach them through a painting which usually takes 3 lessons to complete. I have some photos for beginners to work from, or more mature artists.

Jan Cook Mack teaches in her studio on Easy Street. The cost per lesson is $40. 509-662-8383 Jan Cook Mack (jan@jancookmack.com).

Our September featured artist is Barbara Conner Reed from Okanogan. Her show continues through the 26th.

Annie Jones will be our featured artist in October.

Annie Jones

Annie was born and raised in Leavenworth, Washington.

Always an art enthusiast, she began oil painting in the mid-seventies. After retiring from a career in education she has been able to concentrate more time on both pastels and oil painting.

In addition to painting in her studio, she attends workshops by nationally and internationally known artists, however, Annie still considers herself a recreational artist: "I'm free to paint whatever I find that interests me. In my travels I'm always looking for ideas of future paintings. I've recently returned to oils and have rediscovered my love of that media."

Annie's paintings have been accepted into national competitions and have won local awards as well.
